

STOCKTON TAKE THE HONOURS ON THEIR FINAL ROYAL WELSH

The forecast for very hot weather for judging at the Royal Welsh, failed to materialise and the exhibitors enjoyed perfect conditions for a good show of Suffolk sheep.

On their final show of many years of exhibiting at the Royal Welsh, John and Liz Sinnetts' Stockton Flock, topped a long and enviable show career, by sweeping the boards and taking Champion and Reserve in the Suffolk section.

Their champion was a gimmer by Ballycannon Boom, out of one of the famous Jane family of ewes, which have been successful breeders in the flock for many years.

Taking the reserve champion ticket, was a very correct and smart ram lamb (No 4243) Stockton Last Chance by Dollus Bale. He had previously taken first and reserve champion at Three Counties. He will be for sale at NSA ram sale at Builth Wells on 6th August. The reserve female ticket also went to Stockdale with their ewe lamb.

Throwing a spanner in the works of a clean sweep was another excellent ram lamb, which stood second to the male and reserve overall champion, by taking the reserve male champion ticket for a deserving and very happy Glenys Morgan, when her ram lamb, on his first time out, stepped up to the mark. He is by Rookery Royal Escort out of a ewe by Rhaeadr Lions Glory.
