A brief explanation...

Eight week weight The breeding potential for lamb growth rates from birth to 8 weeks of age.

Mature size Choosing animals with high figures for this trait will increase mature size.

Litter size Selection on high EBVs will increase the prolificacy of female replacements.

Maternal ability This is the maternal component of the 8-week measurement. The higher this figure the better a ram's ewe lambs will perform as mothers (i.e. milking ability).

Scan weight The breeding potential for lamb growth rates to 21 weeks (age at scanning). The selection of breeding stock with high scan weight EBVs will result in animals with heavier carcasses at a constant fat class or leaner carcasses at a constant age.

Muscle depth Choosing animals with high muscle depth EBVs will increase lamb musculature and hence the lean meat content of the carcasse.
Fat depth Negative values indicate animals with lower fat content which will produce leaner carcasses or which can be taken to higher weights without becoming over-fat.

Lean weight Breeding value predicting yield of lean meat in the carcasse (EBV only produced for breeds involved in CT scanning).

Fat weight Breeding value predicting yield of fat in the carcasse (EBV only produced for breeds involved in CT scanning).

Gigot Breeding value highlighting animals with superior breeding potential for gigot shape (EBV only produced for breeds involved in CT scanning).

FEC Breeding potential for worm resistance, a negative number being preferable (EBV only produced for breeds involved in FEC sampling).

Index Highlights superior breeding stock for a specific breeding objective.

 - 17.1.1 any animal which is not so capable and where the incapacity is caused or contributed to by injury or illness howsoever caused, suffered or contracted after the sale is not covered by the warranty; and

- 17.2 An animal shall be deemed incapable of natural and effective service if:
- 17.2.1 It fails to make at least one ewe pregnant during the Male Guarantee Period under natural breeding conditions; and
