registered, two shear or over and the sire need not be still alive. Ear numbers of these ewes must be listed on the entry form. It is hoped that even in the smaller flocks it will be possible to show ten ewes by the same ram and that this class will identify rams which are leaving good breeding ewes.

CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

The competitions are restricted to registered flocks and where flocks are divided into two or more units by the owner, these will be treated as one flock for the purpose of the Competitions.

On the entry form the competitor must state the total number of ewes mated or intended to be mated during the current year. Only shearing ewes intended for sale in the current autumn may be excluded. Any older ewes intended for sale must be included in the number entered and shown. All ewes in the flock must be shown along with one ewe lamb for every five ewes in the flock the previous year.

Rams which are both owned and used on any portion of the flock, including sale gimmers, must be shown. This includes shared rams. Rams not owned, and used only by AI, are not eligible. The names and registered numbers or ear numbers of the rams used in the flock must be listed on the entry form, also any rams owned but not used and any used by AI but not owned. Rams which cannot be shown on the competitor's farm will be viewed at the Judges' discretion and points awarded accordingly. If rams are subsequently proved to be missing from the Judges' inspection all awards are liable to be forfeited.

All ewes and rams must be the bona fide property of the competitor.

The flock must be shown untrimmed, in natural breeding condition.

A maximum of 200 points will be awarded on visual inspection - of these a maximum of 100 will be allocated to the flock ewes, 40 to the ewe lambs and 60 to the stud rams.

The Judges are empowered to withhold any cup or award if in their opinion the flocks entered are not of sufficient merit. In the event of there being less than two entries for any of the cups that competition may be cancelled, but the flocks entered will be judged in connection with the Championship.

The cup winner and reserve in each division will automatically compete for the Champion Challenge Cup.

All cups are offered as perpetual Challenge trophies and shall be held until the next competition; winners shall undertake to return all trophies to the Society as Council shall determine. All cups are insured by the Society.

Any competitor infringing these conditions, or the regulations of the Society will be disqualified.
